

Lilith's Rain

The Contemporary Dance Centre, The Place, Studio 2
17 Duke's Road, London WC1H 9PY

Friday 3rd, Saturday 4th and Sunday 5th July at 8pm

During the first weekend of July there will be a different kind of rain in The Contemporary Dance Centre, where Lilith's Rain, a media installation - performance will be exhibited.

This poetical piece, based on the award winning Chilean play Lilith's Trial, presents Lilith, the woman before Eve who is condemned as a demon for refusing submission to Adam and his Patriarchal God. Lilith's Rain asks the question: Are you a daughter of Eve? Or a daughter of Lilith?

This work created by Liliana Garcia and performed by Chiara D'Anna and Laura Gubbins and with Steve Mason (Sound Designer, Co-Composer) and Scott Robinson (Visual Director) combines physical theatre, film, kinetic poetry, live music and a compelling intimate soundtrack in a piece that challenges conventional cognition and the status of women in society.
